Well folks there's a new number one this month in the shape of Domark's Championship Manager '93. Then with Premier Manager leaping eight places this week to number three and Sensible Soccer 92/93 climbing to number five, it's a veritable footballing frenzy at the top of the chart. Also in the top ten are Goal! and the new entry of Soccer kid at number seven. Highest new entry this month is MicroProse's battle of the skies flight sim Dogfight and this could be a possible future number one. As for the rest of the chart it's pretty much as it was, with nothing really making great inroads into the upper reaches. Here's hoping for a bit more excitement next month.

Number one for the third month running is Team 17's Project X, and as for the rest of the top five – it's all got a touch of deja vu about it, I think you'll agree. Highest climber is KIXX's tale of robbery on the high seas, Pirates!, which climbs six places to number six. Maybe this can penetrate the top five next month to break Team 17's stranglehold on the top places. Big losers are WWF Wrestlemania and The Addams Family, both by The Hit Squad and both dropping from the top 20, the latter after only one month in the chart. Another faller this month is RBI 2, down a massive eleven places. You fickle fickle readers you.
